On April 2, 2007 Officer Ruth Fierro, a campus police officer, was on patrol in Lot 2 of Bunker Hill Community College. Officer Fierro witnessed a tractor-trailer plunge off a ramp from the Tobin Bridge to Interstate 93, striking a car, and landing on top of a sport utility vehicle on the ground below.

Immediately, Officer Fierro called for back up from all outside agencies. First responders on the scene were fellow campus police officers, Sergeant Bobby Barros and Officer Scott Rosenbaum. Both scaled two fences to get to the driver of the truck and were able to stabilize him until more help arrived.

Officer Fierro and fellow campus police officer, Officer Raymond Samms, cleared an unobstructed path from Rutherford Avenue to the scene assisting and allowing all responding agencies to the exact location of this horrific accident.

If not for the immediate reaction by the Campus Police Officers at Bunker Hill Community College, things may have turned out differently and for the worse. Their instinct and professionalism may have helped save a life. Their call to duty was above and beyond their daily activities. Also, an off campus accident is beyond their jurisdiction.

These four Campus Police Officers should be recognized for their selflessness and dedication to their jobs and the actions above and beyond their call of duty. The professionalism and composure each showed with the actions they took to help.

President Field gave each an award of recognition and salutes each for a great job!

Our Local's newsletter is back!

This newsletter is meant to be a communication tool to keep our members informed and to open communication.

In future issues, we would like to resurrect three columns that were favorites in past newsletters: "Membership Tidbits", "Ask the Field Service Director", and "Rap with the Prez".

"Membership Tidbits" are any announcements a member would like published. "Ask the Field Service Director" are for comments and questions to Gordon Blaquiére, the Higher Education Coordinator, and "Rap with the Prez" are comments and questions to Lisa Field, President of Local 1067.

Any submissions or interest in volunteering, please contact Lisa Field at lfield@fsc.edu.

Safety Forum

In light of the recent tragedy at Virginia Tech and ongoing safety concerns from our members, AFSCME Local 1067 announced on April 24, 2007 that the Local would be holding a safety forum. We asked for the members to send in their main concerns on issues regarding health and safety. Please continue to send in issues to lfield@fsc.edu or to Bbfield1@AOL.com.

Legislation for Campus Police Officers in Massachusetts

All members please check with your Chief Stewards to make sure that your name, address, and job title are correct. Please keep your addresses up-to-date!

On May 17, 2007 a legislative committee hearing was held regarding House Bill 2250, an Act to Provide Employees at State and Community College Holding Special State Police Officer Powers with Line of Duty Death Benefits.

Several campus police officers attended the hearing including officers from Massasoit Community College and Bunker Hill Community College. Vasco Cordeiro, a campus police officer at Bristol Community College testified before the committee.

Officer Cordeiro stated, "Bristol is generally a peaceful campus, we don't see major crime, but again-you never know. We think about it. And we wonder...what if?"

Kudos to all who attended!

Right to Know Laws

From www.afscme.org

For many AFSCME members, exposure to serious health hazards is all in a day's work. On-the-job exposure to chemicals can make you sick and even kill you. Some chemicals may also pose safety hazards and have the potential to cause fires and explosions and other serious accidents.

Public employees in most states are covered by state Right-to-Know laws or the state's version of federal OSHA's Hazard Communication Standard. These laws give workers a legal right to get information and training on hazardous chemicals that they are exposed to on the job.

This law can be used to identify health hazards on the job and then demand adequate protections so that workers do not have to choose between their health and their jobs.

Government for Sale: An Examination of the Contracting out of State and Local Government Services Excerpt from www.afscme.org

From www.afscme.org

After decades of state and local government experiments with contracting out, the benefits of private delivery of public services have proven to be elusive. And now more than ever, the government is the front line in homeland security, the nation understands the importance of an experienced, dedicated public-sector workforce and the dangers of privatization.

Contracting out often results in higher costs, poorer service, increased opportunities for corruption and diminished government flexibility, control and accountability. Contracting out can compromise the security of information and public assets. In addition, the local economy and tax base may suffer as decent jobs with benefits are replaced with low-wage, no-benefit jobs provided by companies located in another part of the country or even overseas.

Innovative and responsible government leaders know that joint labor/management partnerships are the best way to truly improve service delivery. Public resources are most efficiently and effectively deployed when front-line workers and managers work together for the common good.

Local 1067 takes very seriously the issue of contracting out and the subsequent erosion of living wage, union jobs. Presently, the Local and Council 93 are working on legislation that tackles this issue. Also, the Local has two issues regarding contracting out and third-party management. One is at Mass College of Art and the other is at Fitchburg State College (the Wallace Civic Center). Both the Local and the Council are collaborating on AFSCME's responses to these issues.
